Prevention is Key to County Law Enforcement

by ...
Novillo R. Jacob
Public Relations Officer
Hancock County
Port and Harbor Commission

Basing his law enforcement efforts on the old axiom, an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, Sheriff Fred Curet reports that, with one exception, crime is on the wane in Hancock County.

That exception, ... the use of narcotics by teenagers. This frightening statistic came to light last week when we contacted Curet seeking material for this column.

In general, Curet said, U.S. 90 creates the biggest problem, with both juvenile offenders and hardened criminals alike utilizing the route between the metropolitan centers of New Orleans, La. and Mobile, Ala.

Second source of crime is directly or indirectly connected with 10,000 transient citizens who utilize the county in summer and return to their city homes in winter, the sheriff reported.

Of particular concern, in individual cases, other than the narcotics, is the incidence of drunken driving, reckless driving, and breaking and entering. The lawman said that most of his cases center around these three things with other types of crime, such as theft, armed robbery, and other assault cases falling in the bill.

Cases of armed robbery, murder, armed assault, and such are pretty rare in this county, "thank heaven," the sheriff said. To minimize crime opportunity the county police force operates 21 radio cars on 24-hour alert and has a field force of 30 troopers.

Radio communication is maintained over a private departmental channel of 45.15 kcs and on 45.10 kcs for state sheriff and highway patrol inter-communication.

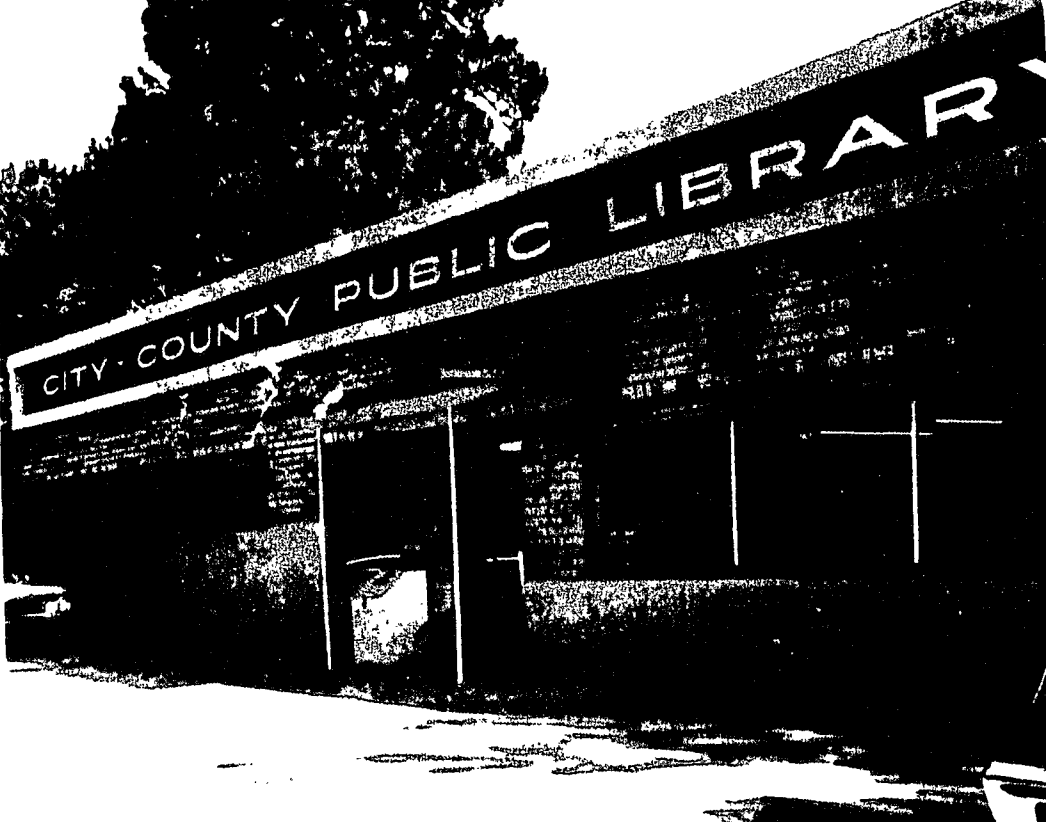

The uniformed deputies on patrol are answered in the radio headquarters by a staff of three full-time and two part-time radio operators.

Sub-radio station and deputy sheriff's office is in operation in Pearllington and, to advance communications, a 24-hour radio station is also maintained on Citizen's Band Radio Channel for the civil defense network.

Radio contact is maintained with the marshal's office in Bay St. Louis and telephone communication is operated between the courthouse and the Bay St. Louis police department.

Some of the five elected best constables are connected with the sheriff's radio network frequency and the county coroner and forest ranger are furnished departmental communication.

Some of this communications network, equipment has been placed in power to 100 watts, both transmitting and receiving. The second communication is through the county sheriff's office. The department's equipment, which is used by graduates of the Sheriff's School, is used by the

Manslaughter Hearing Slated

Billot and three children in the car were injured and were admitted to Hancock General Hospital.

Dons was released on $2,000.00 bond after being charged by Hancock Deputy Sheriffs Alton Lumpkin and Earl Ladner who investigated the accident.

Mr. Necaise was married and was employed as a cooper by Schweigman's, North Weymouth.

He is survived by his wife, Thomas J. Necaise, nee Riemann, of Weymouth.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. from Riemann's Weymouth Field Funeral Home, Weymouth, Monday morning followed by interment in Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Weymouth, in Weyland Cemetery.

An open letter to Mr. Eugene E. Ladner
in reply to your letter dated June 12, 1969

Dear Mr. Ladner:

Since you have seen fit to make yourself both judge and jury on a situation that is before the public courts I must respectfully decline your offer to submit my resignation.

In answer to your statement that I have publicly offered to resign if it would benefit the school system, I still feel the same about this but I do not think that my resignation at this time would in any way benefit the Hancock County School system.

Politics do not make for good schools and politics have in the past and are presently exerting a great deal of influence on the schools of Hancock County. I feel that we must take a stand now or never to save our school from absolute political control.

Respectfully,

Robert Clapp

Mr. and Mrs. Tony di Lorenzo of Long Beach, renewed wedding vows exchanged 60 years ago at a special Mass Sunday in St. Thomas Catholic Church with Rev. Robert Corcoran, C. M., officiating.

Tony and John di Lorenzo their grandsons, served as altar boys and Mrs. Mary Porter, organist, played a number of appropriate selections.

The refreshment table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, was centered with a cake topped with the numerals 60, flanked by candelabra.

Their daughters, Mrs. Sylvester Benigno and Mrs. Lena Chincio, of Bay St. Louis, cut and served the cake and Misses Brenda and Linda di Lorenzo of Slidell, La., presided at the punch table. The guest register was kept by Miss Cynthia di Lorenzo, Slidell.

Freedom Pillar ...

Grove, honors or memorializes men and women who serve or have sacrificed in the United States Armed Services.

Another brother of Lieut. Baxter was the principal speaker at the dedicatory ceremonies of Freedom Wall Pillars. He is Lionel F. Baxter of Miami, Florida, vice president for radio division of the Storer Broadcasting Co., and one of the most successful proponents of modern radio in the industry today.

Deploing the waves of violence, rebellion and dissent sweeping the country, he declared:

"Most of it has no constructive value whatever. Most of it is actually destructive of the values which made our nation possible."

Too many of us have forgotten the admonition of Daniel Webster that "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it."

"Any citizen who is not willing today to sacrifice for his country does not deserve his citizenship. He is a parasite resting on the shoulders of our heroic forebears and eating away the vital fabric on which our future depends," he continued.

"Everything we mean by the word 'America' -- honor, dignity, integrity, respect for law, preservation of religious freedom and all of the guarantees in our Bill of Rights -- are symbolized in the flag we so proudly commemorate today."

Active in civic affairs, Lionel Baxter was one of the originators of the Birmingham Toy Bowl Game, one of the larger charity football games in the South. He is a member of the board of National Conference of Christians and Jews and the board of directors of the Radio Advertising Bureau.

In 1947, he was honored by His Holiness Pope Pious XII as a Knight of St. Gregory the Great. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus.

THE TECHNICAL CENTER building located on highway 603, off highway 90, Waveland has been leased by the General Electric Company, for use by its Mississippi Test Support Department. John R. Picard, department general manager for G. E., said the additional facilities will be used for the departments work on current contracts and in continuing efforts to secure diversified new business.

U.S. Treasury Agents of the Gulfport office of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division arrested Hubert Hugo Bilbo, 53, of Kiln June 13, charging him with operating a still located in the woods about half a mile southeast of Kiln.

Special investigators said Bilbo was arrested while operating an unregistered distillery, using water from the nearby swamp. They seized and destroyed one 50-gallon copper pot still, 200 gallons of sugar rye mash and various other items of distilling apparatus.

Bilbo was released on his own recognizance, pending his appearance before the U.S. Commissioner in Biloxi.

Hancock County Reports...

on a monthly basis with each deputy reporting on trouble spots within his area.

Deputies are assigned to operate in areas with which they are most familiar to prevent law violators from using little known roadways as means of escape, and from employing names of persons as references who are fictitious to that district.

Let us get back to the crime bit and the narcotics problem. In 1968 the department processed some 300 juvenile cases. These cases included some charged with automobile theft, breaking and entering, stealing, reckless driving, run-a-way, and the like, as well as narcotics.

This year the lump total figure is running way ahead but mostly from the increase in narcotics cases.

To try and combat the situation the sheriff has staged seminars on alcoholism and narcotics, two off related items; established a citizens committee on narcotics and alcohol, of which he is chairman; instituted a narcotics training program for his deputies, that includes such things as addict and user identification, identification of particular narcotic, apprehension of suspects, and suspect handling.

Curet has enlisted the support and active aid of local ministers and his full time juvenile chaplain, Rev. William Kelly, has also received training in the problem.

Narcotics samples are sent to the Highway Patrol Headquarters in Jackson for identification.

The sheriff also had a note of warning to juveniles involved in the current upward surge.

His department now has a complete investigation department in operation which is equipped to find facts in any area. Also the department has its own photographic and fingerprinting section and utilizes the Federal Bureau of Investigation fingerprinting section in Washington, D. C. for registration and identification of apprehended suspects.

Juveniles arrested here for narcotics violations finish up with their criminal activity records on file in Washington - for life! That's worth thinking about.

On the transient population question, at least the summer residents, Curet says some funny things result when they re-open their houses each year.

"Some think they are in the country and start shooting off guns in the back yard. They forget first of all that they are surrounded by other people, although separated from them by a row of trees, and further they forget or don't realize it is an offense to discharge a firearm within corporate limits." Others when opening their summer homes find out they have been the target of vandals or thieves during the winter and these houses, often unoccupied for six months at a time, do offer a target to burglars.

Curet said Monday he had 20 grand jury cases in jail but that with the constant patrol work being performed by uniformed deputies throughout the county the crime rate is definitely down.

He also mentioned that his department sponsors a rifle range, open to all, on the Old Bayou La Croix Road, staffed by a full time range officer.

In organizing his preventive crime campaign the sheriff is taking advantage of information gleaned from his affiliations with others in the law enforcement field.

For instance, he is the Southern Vice President of the Mississippi Sheriff's Association, representing 29 counties; he is an executive committee member of the President's Anomalous Crime and Safe Street Committee for the 11th district comprising Hancock, Pearl River, Harrison, Stone, and Jackson Counties; and a member of the Southern Peace Officer's Association, the Mississippi-Tennessee Sheriff's Association, the National Sheriff's Association, and The National Law Enforcement Academy.

Next week we will look at the other side of the sheriff's operations... his role as a tax collector. Too, we will look around the courthouse and talk about such little known things as the dimly lit records keeping room on the third floor, the new detention center under construction, and the courthouse face-lifting job.

Inquiries to this column and requests for information are invited and should be addressed to Neville R. Jacob, public relations officer, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, P. O. Box 69, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

THE NEW City-County Library at Dunbar and Uman Avenue opened Monday morning in Bay St. Louis. Seated is Mrs. E. Humphreys, librarian and standing is Mrs. Shirley Price, typist and catalogist. Library hours are from 9-5 Monday through Friday and 9-12 on Saturdays.

He had been hearing about all the good deals J. C. Koenen of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet had been making so he paid him a visit. Well J. L.A. Rams Football Star Tour Guide at NASA

Cephus Jackson -- rookie defensive back for the rugged Los Angeles Rams and "part-time" tour guide at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility--says it is easier to cover the tricky moves of John Mackay of the Baltimore Colts than it is to tackle some of the questions he's asked by sixth-grade space buffs who come to see America's Apollo/Saturn V program in action.

How did this fleet-footed, professional football player wind up spending his "off season" time helping visitors learn more about America's space exploration program?

Easy, sports fans. He was getting out of shape "sitting around home" in nearby Pica-yune, Mississippi watching TV and waiting until next year to help his Rams "take it all" in the Super Bowl, 1970.

So Cephus applied to the General Electric Co., -- prime service contractor at MTF whose functions include the visitors and orientation program. Cephus went through quite an orientation himself, studying press releases, informational brochures and maps of the test facility, with explanations from expert technicians and engineers.

And, in the past five months Cephus has probably signed more autographs as part of NASA's team in Mississippi than most pros will in a lifetime.

Cephus has many fans among the school kids, teachers and tourists who take advantage of the Mississippi rocket test site's daily tour program to see where the first and second stage rockets of Saturn V launch vehicles for the Apollo program are man-rated and flight-certified for such fantastic space destinations as the moon.

A native of Mobile, Ala., Cephus is a 1968 graduate of Jackson State College in Jackson, Miss., where he played four years of varsity football. Small College All American his senior year, he trained under defensive coach Henry Littlemore and head coach Rodrick P. A. while working toward his major in Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Cephus was drafted by George Allen of the Rams as defensive back because of his tackling ability, linebacking experience and outstanding speed of 9.8 sec. for the 100-yard dash.

Asked how he felt about living in the middle of New Orleans Saints territory, Cephus replied: "Uncomfortable. I feel like a first settler in hostile Indian territory with all the Saints fans who visit the test site."

In spite of his Ram affiliation, he feels that "no matter in which division the Saints are placed in during the new realignment you may be sure they will be a contender if they continue to progress at the present rate."

Cephus returns to training in Fullerton, California on July 13, carrying fond memories of his summer spent with NASA and the school kids of Mississippi. He said he was happy to find kids in the elementary grades so interested and well versed on the space program.

The many questions put to him by space-aged students,

RELAX IN AIR-CONDITIONED COMFORT

DEEP SEA FISHING Nodco officials picked a perfect weekend weather for their first three day piscatorial spree. Obviously, the third annual event isn't in the least jeopardized as proceedings began at 8 p.m. on what is usually considered to be the luckiest day of the year, Friday the 13th, and went up on the last day of St. Vitus, believed by many to be the harbinger of 40 consecutive days of rainfall if as much as one drop of precipitation appears on June 15.

SUPPER THEY really weren't taking too much of a chance on the latest omen since the recent removal of many from the ranks of the lucky, although we are a bit vague about the status of St. Vitus at present. He was officially canonized well over 1,000 years ago, but our reference books aren't sufficiently up-to-date to enlighten us as to whether or not he is still among the immortals.

SPEAKING OF SAINTS, we really weren't too surprised when St. Christopher's name was stricken from the rolls. Not after reading that a rather staggering number of motorists had sustained fatal injuries when their heads came into contact with the sunshades magnetically attached to dashboards, but our Irish blood still boils over the downfall of our favorite, St. Patrick. We were aware, convinced that he was solely responsible for the sunshade state of the Emerald Isles, but March 17, has always been such a happy occasion for celebration at an otherwise dull time of the year. Too, we're wondering what will become of the impressive cathedrals christened in the honor of this cheerful patron of the wearing of the green.

THIS TORIC should lead us easily into the blessing of the fleet, performed by one of our own favorite sons of the sea, Rev. James Kelley, S.C.D. Rev. Charles Johnson was also aboard the Sheriff's department water safety patrol boat as ceremonies got underway only a little after 2 p.m. Seas off the American Legion jetty were just a bit choppy and a brisk easterly breeze gaily whipped the multi-colored flags decorating each of the participating boats, as it kept the spectators from broiling in the brilliant sunshine. Two supervisors, Charlie Ross and Paul Manning, waved to their constituents from the official boat, although Paul decided to join Russell Elliott, Ralph Keeler and Joe Curran aboard the Omecca III, shortly after it passed with the lovely reds queen, Carol Wickham and her equally lovely maids, aboard. The Fish Fry was next in line, followed by a variety of boats ranging from large motor boats, to yachts, to small trailers. A large crowd braved the heat to view the proceedings which were also clearly visible from the beach front, and a number of residents apparently took advantage of the water-borne parade to stage fleet blessing parties, and guests could be seen waving each craft as it passed by. There were many out-of-towners lining the jetty, and a few familiar faces spotted here and there included those of the 1965 queen, Patty Curvas, Joyce and Fritz Garcia, Marion Elliott, daughter Patsy Lacher and her small daughter Amy; Beryl Kida, Geraldine Rutherford, Carmen Mitchell, John Damborino, and his grandson, John Pat; Maggie Hayden, Edith Dantagnan, Elsie Kenney, John Most and many, many more.

WE'RE UNDERSTANDING Mr. and Mrs. William Ford upon having celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last month. The Fords observed the golden occasion while on their recent trip to Europe. We haven't seen them since their return, but according to reports, from friends, they thoroughly enjoyed their extensive tour of the continent.

FRANCES AND JOHN RUSSELL are also due congratulatory greetings. They dined at a plush coast restaurant on their 51st anniversary on Friday, June 6.

THE SPRING CROP of new babies continues to arrive pretty much on schedule, although Cathy and Sam Reitz' son was born closer to the date set by Cathy's physician than the one selected by her outboard. The Reitz heir weighed in at a husky 8 pounds. Sorry we forgot to ask the young man's name, but if it's Sam, a certain amount of confusion is bound to ensue as their large black canine answers to that title also.

BIT SHORT on vital statistics but Carol and Charlie Barback became parents for the first time last week. We do know that the blessed event was a little girl.

FAIR TIME AGAIN! The dedicated group which has worked so very hard to build their own firehouse and obtain modern equipment, the East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department, is sponsoring another fair beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, June 21-22. Even though last year's fair was held in the open on the lot upon which the new station now stands, everyone who attended had a ball. Now that the building is completed, funds are still badly needed to keep up the good work. We're hoping this everyone will support this project for a counter where there's a fire, the East Hancock truck answers the call and has frequently been first on the scene of many blazes. The benefit is to be held on Choctaw Street in Bayville Park which is roughly six blocks east of the Clubhouse and may be reached equally easily from the U.S. 90 entrance or the Hancock Avenue entrance off Lakeshore Road.

THE FANNINGS, Lorraine and George, celebrated their 23rd wedding anniversary on

MRS. EDDIE L. POLLEY

Miss Pikes' Attendants Announced

Miss Pamela Pike, bride-elect of Roger Anderson, Jr., has selected Miss Suzanne Hoomes of Ocean Springs as her maid of honor and Misses Karen Pike, a sister, and Karla Bielestein, both of Bay St. Louis and Marianne Abrams, Hattiesburg, as bridesmaids. Miss Joyce Anderson, Richmond, Va., sister of the groom-elect, will serve as junior bridesmaid and Miss Ellis Anne Pike, will be her sister's flower girl.

Mr. Anderson will have Randy Adams of Treasure Island, Fla., as his best man and groomsmen will be Stan Nalley, Steve Hill and Ellis Taylor, while Roger Piper, Pass Christian, will serve as junior groomsmen. James Curtis, Blount, and Richard Anderson, Pinola, Va., will be ushers. Miss Pike and Mr. Anderson will be married Saturday, June 28, in First Baptist Church.

Miss Sandra Hinson Edward Polley Vows Exchanged

Miss Sandra Gail Hinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hinson, Bay St. Louis, and Eddie Leavy Polley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Polley, of Easton, Kansas, were married at 4 p.m., Saturday, June 14, in McKinney Memorial Church, Fort Worth, Texas, with Rev. W. H. Harrison and Mr. Roy Sherwood officiating.

Mrs. Paul Hensley, Houston, Texas, was matron of honor and Mrs. Betty Schneider and Miss JoAnne Roberts, Fort Worth, Texas, served as bridesmaids; the bride's aunts Misses Karen and Melinda Hinson of Baton Rouge, were junior bridesmaid and flower girl.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original design gown fashioned of pea desole. The ribbon lace front yoke continued into the back and fell into a full length train. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a crown of flowers and she carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The attendants wore apricot empire waist line gowns with bell sleeves and a bow in the back forming a full length panel. They had matching bouquets of flowers and carried cascade bouquets similar to the brides.

The bridegroom had John Sherwood of Orange Park, Fla., as his best man and Dave Longberg and Lawrence Liebgold, Orange Park, as groomsmen.

Ushers were Ray Hinson, brother of the bride, Baton Rouge, La., and Tom Polley, brother of the groom, Easton, Kansas.

The couple was assisted in receiving at a reception at the Church by their parents and the bridal party.

The bride, a 1963 graduate of Bay High School, graduated from Meadows Draughton Business College, New Orleans, and was formerly employed by Pan-American Oil Company, Fort Worth, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Polley will make their home in Jacksonville, Fla., where he is attending Florida Junior College.

Attending the wedding from this area were the bride's parents and Mrs. O.G. Hankins of Long Beach.

Fishermen Rescued

The Civil Defense Unit was notified about 3 o'clock Monday morning that two fishermen, Joe Coleman of New Orleans and Glenn Dorr had not returned from fishing around Half Moon.

A rescue party headed by Game Warden Patrick Toomey went out and searched until daylight without any results. In the meantime another boat found them near the mouth of the Pearl River and pulled their disabled boat in.

The fishermen were in good shape except for many mosquito bites and they had suffered from the cold.

He loves her . . . he loves her not . . .
he loves her . . . or does he? If only daisy petals could give the answer!

Then there's that more introspective
question: Does she really love him . . .
or does she not?

And that ultimate question—still a long way off—but getting closer every day: Can theirs be a happy, lasting marriage?

Is romance a colossal gamble—or are there basic elements which are predictable?

Millions of Christian parents are staking their children's future on the latter view. They believe that religious education in the Church and religious atmosphere in the home can foster moral and spiritual maturity. They believe that character as well as love is essential to marriage . . . a home . . . a family.

And they want their sons and daughters to meet others who are being brought up the same way!

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

The weather has continued to be good for fishing, floundering and soft crabbing the past week, although exceptionally hot during the middle of the day.
Fly fishing and casting was effected by the tide going out.
The best tide for catching fresh water fish is when it has been high and falls slow. Soft crabbing has been best around midnight. A few flounders are being caught in the early part of the night.

Speckle trout fishing is still not up to par. A few are being caught here and there but they have not really come in as yet.
They are out in the marshes.

Charley Cantrell and his guests caught around 150 speckles out by Free Mason and other spots, near the marsh.
They ran up to 5 pounds.

Perre Quintini who has been home on leave, fishing with his friends, has been doing quite a bit of fly fishing. He has been getting his share of fresh water fish.

Luke Elliott was over from Baton Rouge for the weekend.
Luke played golf and fished.
Not enough time he claimed.

Both golfing and fishing took up most of the time of local sports over the past weekend.
The club championships at Pass
Christian Isles Golf course finals were played Sunday with Mrs. Powell Glass becoming the ladies champion with Mrs.
John David winning the First Flight.

In the men's division Roy Capehart won the championship and Woody Wagner was runner-up. It was one of the best tournaments held at the club
with most all members participating. Giving out the trophies and a cocktail hour wound up activities Sunday evening.

Roger Selligman eats fish
but does not fish. His favorite sport is playing golf. He is a good player and makes it rough for any competitor.

Buzz Walker is also a golfer and plays regularly. He and his friends enjoy some hot matches.

Was a pleasure to meet Joe Como at the golf tourney. Joe also plays golf and is in general a real sport.

Regretted hearing of the death this past week of three of our fishing and hunting buddies, Jack Ladner, president of the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club and a life member.
Tony Necalse and Richard Boudreaux. Sympathy is extended to their families.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK
JOE COMPRETTEA fishes
with his friends but his favorite sport is gardening. If he could fish like he raises vegetables he would be number one in our book.

Jack Ford a member of the sales force of Timber Ridge Shores when not selling lots is out after the finny tribe.

Leroy and A. J. Cospelich
former residents, fishermen and hunters, spent the weekend at the Bay. They left here 8 years ago but come over quite often. Both love fishing with their friends. They are the sons of the late Alex Cospelich and take after their Pa when it comes to catching fish.

Saw a card from Bud Moreau from Holland. Bud is having a good time travelling abroad.
Will hear more about it when he gets back.

Was sorry to hear of the death of Elwood Abbley, assessor at Pass Christian over the weekend.

Ray Kidd, Ricky Kidd and Gerald Rigby made a nice catch of speckles last week. Gerald is from Atlanta, Ga.

Joe Glover and family returned to New Orleans after spending a week at the Bay.
They enjoyed fishing, boating and swimming. Joe said he enjoyed going fishing with August Rauxet and the old coach, Dec Elliott. Green trout and perch were the result.

Not too many go frogging,
but reports are coming in of some big ones being caught at this time. A headlight and a gig will do the trick and they are good eating, too.

Heard a tape recording from Major Howard Duff from over seas. He is with the air force and expects to catch up on his fishing when he gets home.

Mayor John Scaffide has been getting his share of fish lately.
Fly fishing is his favorite sport.
Not bad at it, either.

The Hancock County Fishing
Rodeo ended Sunday. Quite a few people participated with trophies and prizes given the winners. Those making the rodeo a big success should be congratulated and thanked for their efforts. The rodeo will be an annual affair you can bet, getting larger and better each year.

Ronnie Rauxet, one of our best and youngest sportsman, does his share of fishing, soft crabbing, and gigging frogs.
Ronnie, only 12, gets his share
of fish and game.

Lucien Peniclaro has been catching his share of speckles.
A good fisherman he also goes after perch and bass.

With temperatures up in the 90's believe it or not there is always a breeze on the water.
Bass and perch are being caught in the main bayous and rivers
instead of in small streams where the water is hot. Fish shady banks where possible for best result.

J.C. Baxter and friends have been making some real catches of speckles. J.C. knows how and where to get them. Been at it a long time, eh buddy?

Life is just one thing after another. Drinks are any number after one another. Remember how to count.

Blue gills and goggle eyes are coming into their own. They are being caught in most streams. These favored perch are hitting small popping bugs,

taking worms, grass shrimp and minnows. Choose your own way of fishing. But go.

Edward Herman is vacationing at "Red Bud" in the county
with his sons, Rene and Wayne.
They are enjoying soft crabbing
and fishing.
